

RENOVATION OF HISTORIC BUILDINGS EVENT

Book now for our unique event for professionals involved in the renovation and conservation of historic buildings – or forward this message to a colleague

LABC is hosting a brand new event in London on 3rd December focusing on historic, older and listed buildings. This will be aimed at planning, building control and conservation professionals, working together to preserve, protect and update historic buildings and will include an introduction to the NEW British Standard BS 7913: Conservation of Historic Buildings.

Topics include:

- Building Regulations and Historic Buildings – exemptions, relaxations and compromise
- An introduction to the NEW British Standard BS 7913: Conservation of Historic Buildings
- Making life a little simpler: Skills and capacity for conservation officers and services
- Latest technical research into traditional building performance
- Conservation perspectives and balancing technical and heritage considerations
- Practical solutions and case studies for finding sensible solutions to complex issues which still meet standards and regulations
- Service transformation – working together better to deliver better solutions
