HELP! Getting the Historic Environment into Local Plans - and the London Plan

The Gallery, 77 Cowcross Street, London, EC1M 6EL
on

Tuesday, 28th February 2017

This joint seminar will examine the theory, policy and implementation behind the inclusion of historic environment policies in local plans. Speakers will provide experience and differing viewpoints relating to the impact of recent changes in legislation and Government guidance to planning on heritage. The seminar will be of interest to those concerned over the protection of London's historic environment and those involved in delivering the conservation of heritage assets and protection outcomes.

Speakers include: Richard Parish, Historic Places Adviser, Historic England will cover Heritage in Local Plan-making then Sandy Kidd, Principal Archaeology Advisor (GLAAS) Historic England, will speak about Archaeological Priority Areas, in conjunction with Borough Local Plan reviews. David Divers of MOLA will provide a case study and Isabelle Adams will provide the viewpoint from Crossrail 2.
