

IHBC's fourth NewsBlog Branches Update: Explore Branch CPD events across the UK

This 4th issue of IHBC Branches Update is offering another great variety of events, offering local CPD across the UK open to IHBC members and non-members!

Places are filling fast for our 2018 Annual School in Belfast which offers some of the best heritage learning and CPD around - see details below (June section).

Check out the next forthcoming Membership application support session (MATE) offered on 31 May in Northern Ireland.

Browse the variety of Branch CPD events from the forthcoming Practical Training Day on Roofing and Hot Mixed Traditional Mortars to Naval Glazing, Charles Mynors and an hands-on clay day (details below).

Also, the Yorkshire Branch has rescheduled a visit to The Piece Hall, Halifax! Check details below to visit one of Britain's most extraordinary buildings.

ALWAYS BE SURE TO BOOK AND CHECK WITH THE BRANCH FOR LATEST DETAILS!

The IHBC's new monthly Branch Update on proactive local voluntary activities and training events combines updates on the full range of IHBC Branch-related events across the UK as well as reports on and links to our Branch activities and reports.

All the Branches are encouraged to send feedbacks. Please discuss this during your next Branch meeting and follow up with Carla on what you think by emailing at support@ihbc.org.uk

'You can also share this NewsBlog with any colleagues interested in heritage but unfortunate enough not to be members of the IHBC, in case they might gain from the hard work of our uniquely proactive Branch network. They might also be reminded that in many cases the free events are not necessarily free to non-members, and IHBC members usually get priority, so always be sure to check out the details with the lead Branch.'

EVENTS

May 2018

10-11 May

North West Branch - Practical Training Day: Roofing and Hot Mixed Traditional Mortars

The THI and the Natural Building Centre – Llanwrst, are to deliver a practical training day delivering traditional random pegged roofing and hot mixed traditional mortars. All of which will be done and applied on a live project, with the building dating back as far as 1498!

The days will be delivered for FREE, with lunch provided.

Additionally on the 10th, FREE return transport will be available from Prescot-Llanwrst.

On the 11th attendees are expected to make their own travel arrangements.

To secure a place, we will need your name and address details if attending as an individual, or if attending on behalf of your company/employer we will need your company name and an address.

Please correspond with Richard.MacDonald@Knowsley.gov.uk

11 May

Scotland Branch - Conservation Area Management Training Day

10.00am - 4.00pm

Council Buildings, Ayr

Carrick Centre, Maybole

The Ayrshire day will look at conservation area management in Ayr from soon after designation in July 1968 to the present day, as major proposals by Ayr Renaissance to develop the town centre mean radical surgery in the High Street. We will look at the Conservation Area Appraisal for Central Ayr, assess the impact of the recent THI, and look at strategic ways forward.

Next we will learn about neighbouring Maybole, find out about community-led proposals for enhancing its Conservation Area and discuss with consultants the ongoing preparation of its CA Management Plan.

Yorkshire Branch

Tour of Halifax Piece Hall

The Piece Hall, Blackledge, Halifax HX1 1RE

The Piece Hall is one of Britain's most extraordinary buildings. Built in 1779 to trade 'pieces' of cloth, it is now the UK's sole surviving cloth hall and offers a unique window back into our past.

Its near 250-year history has seen the building take on many transformations – in Georgian times as a place for trading locally made 'Kersey' and other cloth, later as a gathering point for Victorian spectacles and political rallies. It then became a wholesale market, before being transformed into a visitor attraction and, most recently, undergoing an extensive conservation programme.

During your visit, we will take you on a journey spanning almost quarter of a millennium. You will meet characters from the past and hear fascinating stories about this truly incredible building.
